Imagine a young woman - or man - fond of adornment, examining the image of her own face in a bright, clean mirror or bowl of clear water: If she saw any dirt or blemish there, she would try to remove it. Geht doch dem schlechten Geruche aus dem Wege. At this speed, consumers are losing their patience. I think this book has too much going on in each plot to be totally successful.

in Nocturne on an American Hymn Tune - ScoreSchmidt ed. I look at my children and wonder what lies ahead My precious little babies, the tears I have shed Cancer is with us, each and every day It has affected us all, each in very different ways For some we are angry, others are sad For me, I hate cancer, I couldn't be any more mad What it has done to my life, to my family is not fair Cancer is evil, and it just doesn't care So I'll do all I can do to keep cancer away I will fight cancer with all that I am, each and every day I'll say good bye to my ovaries, and so long to my breasts I will try not to shed a tear as I look down at my chest Cancer has taken enough away from me I cannot lose any more, why can't cancer just see.
